Auction details, photos & prices of the models Copperfox sold off via Ebay

Compiled by Jackie Radwanski

The following messages were released directly from Copperfox and explains what happened and why the models were sold off to find new pastures.

On the 19th July 2018 came a huge shock announcement from Copperfox Model Horses.

"Regretfully, Copperfox Model Horses will be shutting its stable door on the 14th August 2018.

We set out to create a range of model horses of British Native breeds for horse lovers worldwide to cherish and with your help and support through many challenges, we achieved this goal. Your encouragement and belief helped us achieve what many thought was the impossible, so a truly heartfelt thank you for making it all a reality.

Our journey now though has sadly come to an end for a number of reasons. We have had a turbulent few months trying to negotiate with our factory and in short, the factory does not want to produce our models, at the quality we know our customers would expect, for a reasonable price. The factory find the models very labour intensive and therefore want to increase the price considerably, which obviously we cannot accept as it's unsustainable. Despite our ceaseless efforts we have been unable to find an alternative factory in China nor an alternative plan of how we can continue production of the plastic models. The paint team at the factory have already been disbanded as the factory are adamant that they do not want to produce the models. This has added to the ever-increasing costs of plastic and shipping, exchange rates, tooling costs and their maintenance, as well as a never ending list of production obstacles.

This difficult time has had to made us review the business in-depth. Since its formation, it has put us both under an immense amount of pressure taking an extreme toil on our health, well-being, family and finances. Bedtimes and family commitments have been missed due to us trying to make it work, together with countless sleepless nights as we were both utterly committed to making Copperfox Model Horses a success. With sadness, we have made the decision that the time has come for us to step away from the model horse world, a community which has changed so much during the 20 years we have been a part of it.

This news means that there will be no more plastic Copperfox Model Horses, even though we were on the verge of a next production run. The samples were confirmed but the production never finalised during our negotiations so no models were created.

We shall be re-homing all our remaining stock from our warehouse over the next few weeks. Both our new models, Winston and Scamp are available, whilst stocks last, in resin as originally planned but there will be no plastic versions of these models.

We would like to thank all you, once again, our Copperfox Ambassadors, Fans and Followers for your continued support and helping us make it all possible. Thank you for joining us on this fabulous journey and giving our models wonderful forever homes.

Important Update - 9th August 2018

"Hello Copperfox Fans and Followers. We wanted to give you an update since our important announcement to let you know where we are and what will be happening next. Firstly, we would like to say a big, big thank you for all your support, comments and kindness at a time that is hard for us all. We really appreciate your emails and messages, and you sharing your model horse memories with us- and of course pictures of your Copperfoxes! It's amazing to see them all! We have been overwhelmed by the response to our news, which makes our tough but required decision that even bit harder.

In positive news, we are talking to several individuals who are interesting in taking on Copperfox Model Horses both as a whole operation and cherry picking a couple of the models to produce in both plastic and resin. Talks are on-going so we will see what happens. Watch this space as they say!

In relation to this is our collection of archive models, a vast Copperfox collection of samples that were used to produce all our Copperfox models. The archive includes samples of "Regular Run" CF models, Prize CF models and Special Event CF models, in addition to the first crowdfunding/Kickstarter models. It also includes the original prototypes for each model produced at our factory (e.g. models sent to the factory and what from the plastic samples were created from).

Our aim is for the majority of the archives to go with the company, if it is re-homed, as it is an unrivalled model horse collection of CF history showing its journey from the beginning to where it is now. It is however a very large collection of models, bearing in mind that for every Copperfox model (RR, Prize or SR) we produced 2 to 3 sample models to ensure the model was correct before production went into full swing.

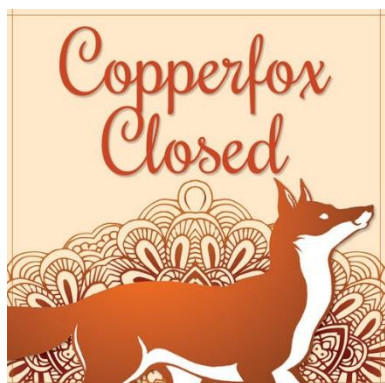

We will be thinning down the archives, reserving at least one of each model to stay in the main archive collection, with the excess amount of models becoming available to purchase and re-homed with Copperfox Collectors. These models will be auctioned via eBay to ensure everyone has a fair opportunity to purchase them. We will let everyone know when these auctions go live via our website and social media channels, so please keep an eye out. We anticipate this to be around the end of August/Early September as it will take us some time to catalogue and photograph everything.

Also, the Copperfox website will be online until at least the end of September 2018. The link to the online shop has been removed from the website, simply because there is nothing left in the shop to buy, but everything else on the website is as normal.

Thank you again everyone for your support.

Copperfox Is Now Closed - August 14, 2018

Today we closed the stable door on Copperfox Model Horses and the brilliant adventure it has been. It's been a fabulous journey and a big thank you once again to our Copperfox Fans, Followers and Founding Foxes who helped make it possible.

We are still here answering emails and questions but as a company we are no longer trading, which means we are not selling models nor able to exchange or refund horses any longer. The Copperfox website will remain online for viewing until approximately the end of September 2018 and all our social media channels are active and functioning as usual.

As to the future, we are in talks with several individuals who are interesting in taking on Copperfox Model Horses both as a whole operation and/or cherry picking a couple of the models to produce in both plastic and resin. Talks are on-going so we will see what happens. The aim, if Copperfox is re-homed, is for the website and all our social media channels to go with the models, so there is no disruption. We will have a clearer picture of what the options are towards the end of this month/early September and we will let you know what is happening as soon as we do ourselves.

As briefly mentioned in our previous post, we are thinning down the archives and our own personal collection of models. These models will be auctioned via eBay to ensure everyone has a fair opportunity to purchase them. We will let everyone know when these auctions go live via our website and social media channels, so please keep an eye out. We anticipate this to be around the beginning of September as it will take us some time to catalogue and photograph everything. As a little preview, this Atlantis test Connemara model from our Kickstarter days will be looking for a new home (as well as a few other goodies that have never seen the light of day...!)

October 2018

Firstly, our apologies for the lack of news. We have taken some time to reflect upon our decision and to consider options for the models and the brand. The unfortunate announcement is that we have been unable to find a suitable individual to take over the reins of Copperfox and to keep it going as a complete operation, therefore Copperfox will be archived permanently.

This news means that all our website and social media accounts, together with all their content will be taken down at the end of November 2018.

A number of Copperfox models, excess models from our archives, will be listed to eBay next week. Models include a test Coloured Irish Sports Horse, Kickstarter Sample Models, Toby and Brigadier Samples, Welsh Prize Models as well as mini CF resins and their large scale counterparts (from our K/S campaign). As soon as these listings are active, we will post all the details and links, together with lots of images and information.

One predicament we cannot solve at the moment is what to do with our vast Copperfox archive. It's an unrivalled model horse collection of CF history showing its journey from the beginning to where it is now. It is however a very large collection of models, of around 95 models, including some which never came to be, for example our Welsh Copperfox models produced by Border Fine Arts.

If the archive stays with us it will just go into storage and never been seen (we sadly don't have the space to display everything!!). We would prefer for the models to be enjoyed by collectors but cannot seem to find an answer as to how. One solution would be to split the archive and sell it off model by model but the archive is not an archive if it's not complete. Any thoughts? What do you do?

Once again, thank you Copperfox Fans and Followers for joining us on this journey. As the proverb says, "all good things must come to an end", and if we do say so ourselves, we did good. We shone bright, made gorgeous models and made people happy, which at the end of the day, is the most important thing of all.

Stay tuned for news of our eBay auctions launching next week and please do let us know your thoughts about the CF archive. What would you like to see happen to it?

- Becky and Sharon

November 2018

A little preview of the models that will be on auctioned through eBay on Wednesday (7/11/2018). There will be 12 lots including a full set of Copperfox Mini Resins, Test Coloured ISH Model, Exmoor and Welsh Resins (from K/S), Welsh Prize models (Gold, Silver and Valiant), Original Run Samples and some very special test Connemara's (dapple grey and buckskin). More pictures and details of each lot to follow asap!

December 2018

We are starting to re-homing all the models in our extensive Copperfox Archive. For every Copperfox model created, we produced sample models to ensure the model (colour, markings, finish etc) was correct before production went into full swing. Sample models were held in our archives so we had a record of the all the stages leading up to a production run, including any tests, proofs and models used to sign off a run of models. As you can imagine, this has created a vast collection of model horses! These unique models are now being sold through eBay enabling Copperfox Collectors and Fans to add these special and rare models to their model horse collections. It's a chance to own a piece of model horse history, with each model coming with a letter explaining its creation and provenance.

The Copperfox website permanently closed down and went offline in early February 2019.

This auction is for: Copperfox “Finnigan the Original Prototype Model”.

Item Description:

The model up for auction is Copperfox Finnigan, the Original Prototype model.

Creating a new colourway of model horse always started with one model. A prototype model from which everything else is taken production wise from its colour and markings to shading and its finish. Our 611 Copperfox Finnigan model was created from this Original Prototype Model. The master painter at the Copperfox factory would have matched the horses coat colour, studied the placement of its markings and looked at the models shading and noting the finish, before creating a replica model, from which all the other painters at the factory would copy.

Prototype models were held in our archives so we had a record of the all the stages leading up to a production run, in addition to tests and samples on the same colour way. These models are now being sold through eBay enabling Copperfox Collectors and Fans to add these unique and rare models to their model horse collections. A chance to own a piece of model horse history!

This model, the Finnigan Original Prototype Model, is made of RESIN, not plastic, and was originally painted by Deb Brown (UK). He is factory worn, with paint splodges and patches of missing paint. Even his original masking tape tag on his tail (to identify him as the prototype) is still intact. He is a piece of Copperfox history, being the prototype from which our most popular model, Finnigan, was created.

Copperfox Finnigan, the Original Prototype model, is a one-of-a-kind. The model is signed 1/1 on his belly, accompanied by the date he was created. For provenance, we will include a letter explaining his creation and full history and is shipped in our unique Union Jack Collectors Box.

This auction is for: Copperfox Marble OOK Sample Model Horse.

Item Description:

The model up for auction is Copperfox Marble OOK Sample (1 of 1) Model Horse.

After our Kickstarter campaign in 2015, Copperfox moved production to a different factory, with the factory producing samples showcasing the type of painting and finish they could achieve. This Copperfox Marble is a model that was created as a paint sample, showcasing the factory's hand painted techniques, especially on the model's markings. This Marble is the only model to have its markings completely applied by hand, with delicate mapping and feathering applied by hand on the model's markings (rather than being painted via stencil or masking on later models). This model is also darker, colour wise, than later Marble models, in addition to having a very unique heart shaped star on her forehead.

It is also one of the older style of Copperfox Models (i.e our Kickstarter Models) which are heavier than newer models, in addition to being made of cellulose acetate rather than a mixture of PC/ABS. A piece of Copperfox history!

This auction is for: Copperfox & Border Fine Arts Welsh Cob Resin Model

Item Description:

The model up for auction is a Copperfox & Border Fine Arts Welsh Cob Resin Model, produced back in 2016. We were in talks with Border Fine Arts, based in Langholm (UK), during February-September 2016 to create a range of resin painted horse models that were to be sold under their Border Fine Arts brand through their stockists all over the world. Sadly, this venture was not meant to be, when the Border Fine Arts Langholm location closed unexpectedly in August 2016.

This model is one of a very small number of sample resin models that Border Fine Arts moulded for us. They were created at the Langholm factory in Scotland. Three models were created in total- this one, a white version and another grey model, who sadly is damaged. Each resin model is raw, uncleaned, unprepared and with excess material and sprues attached. This is due to the sudden announcement of the closing of the Langholm site; they kindly sent the models to us before everything got closed down.

This model is a unique piece of history for both Copperfox and Border Fine Arts, as it is a collaboration model between both companies. He has been living in our archives for several years and now is the time for him to go to pastures new. A unique piece of history for both Copperfox and Border Fine Arts, as it is a collaboration model between both companies. Cool huh?

Creating a new colourway of model horse always started with one model. A prototype model from which everything else is taken production wise from its colour and markings to shading and its finish. A chance to own a piece of model horse history!

This model, the Finnigan Original Prototype Model, is made of RESIN, not plastic, and was originally painted by Deb Brown (UK). These models are now being sold through eBay enabling Copperfox Collectors and Fans to add these unique and rare models to their model horse collections. A chance to own a piece of model horse history!

This auction is for: Copperfox “Celtic Warrior the Original Prototype Model”.

Item Description:

The model up for auction is Copperfox Celtic Warrior the Original Prototype model.

Creating a new colourway of model horse always started with one model. A prototype model from which everything else is taken production wise from its colour and markings to shading and its finish. Our 601 Copperfox Celtic Warrior model was created from this Original Prototype Model. The master painter at the Copperfox factory would have matched the horses coat colour, studied the placement of its markings and looked at the models shading and noting the finish, before creating a replica model, from which all the other painters at the factory would copy.

Prototype models were held in our archives so we had a record of the all the stages leading up to a production run, in addition to tests and samples on the same colour way. These models are now being sold through eBay enabling Copperfox Collectors and Fans to add these unique and rare models to their model horse collections. A chance to own a piece of model horse history!

This model, the Celtic Warrior Original Prototype Model, is made of plastic, and was originally painted by Deb Brown (UK). He is factory worn with a few marks, blemishes, missing paint, paint splodges and a bit grubby. He still has the original masking tape tag on his tail (to identify him as the prototype). He is a piece of Copperfox history, being the prototype from which our regular run model Sovereign was created.

Copperfox Celtic Warrior, the Original Prototype model, is a one-of-a-kind. He is one of the older style Copperfox Models (i.e. our Kickstarter Models) which are heavier than newer models, due to being made of cellulose acetate rather than a mixture of PC/ABS, which is what our newer models are created from. The model is signed 1/1 on his belly, accompanied by the date he was created. For provenance, we will include a letter explaining his creation and full history and is shipped in our unique Union Jack Collectors Box.

This auction is for: Copperfox & Border Fine Arts Welsh Cob Master Resin Plaster Model

Item Description:

The model up for auction is a Copperfox & Border Fine Arts Welsh Cob Master Resin Plaster Model, produced back in 2016. We were in talks with Border Fine Arts, based in Langholm (UK), during February-September 2016 to create a range of resin painted horse models that were to be sold under their Border Fine Arts brand through their stockists all over the world. Sadly, this venture was not meant to be, when the Border Fine Arts Langholm location closed unexpectedly in August 2016.

This model is one of a very small number of sample resin models that Border Fine Arts moulded for us. They were created at the Langholm factory in Scotland. Three models were created in total - this one, a grey resin version and another grey model, who sadly is damaged (and will stay in our personal collection). This model is raw, uncleaned, unprepared and with excess material and sprues attached. This is due to the sudden announcement of the closing of the Langholm site; they kindly sent the models to us before everything got closed down.

This model is a unique piece of history for both Copperfox and Border Fine Arts, as it is a collaboration model between both companies. He has been living in our archives for several years and now is the time for him to go to pastures new. For provenance, we will include copies of email correspondence between CF/BFA and a letter explaining the full history of this model, in addition to him being shipped in our unique Union Jack Collectors Box.

Model Finish: Unpainted. Raw, uncleaned and unprepped. He is solid cast, so is very heavy. The material he is made from is a resin/plaster type mix.

Images: Please see the images below. These are pictures of the actual model on auction so please view them carefully. If you need any additional images (or larger ones) or have any questions or queries, please drop us a note. Pictures are taken in natural light to show off the models true to life colours.

Size: This model is 1:9th Scale and made from resin. He measures 29cm Long (leg to tail), 20cm High (to top of ears) and 6.5cm Wide (at widest point).

Condition: As from the Factory. Please view the images of the model as the item is sold as seen.
